Leading Edge Radio Network Adds Second Channel and Opens up Opportunities for New Broadcasters on the Network.

The Leading Edge Radio Network is now in the developmental stage of a second LERN News & Talk Channel. "This channel will carry some of the programming that our current channel carries but at different scheduled times," According to Greg Martin, the Network Chief Executive Officer. The 2nd channel will also broadcast brand new programs by talented on-air personalities and also be carried on the LERN ROKU television channel.

LERN is seeking new talent and personalities for this 2nd channel. An interested personality will be charged a broadcast fee at the rate of $100 a month for 1 show up to 2 hours in length a week OR 2 to 5 shows per week up to 2 hours each for $200 a month.

There is also potential for each personality to generate income with their program with our new talent incentive program, details of which will be provided to interested parties.

Interested on-air or aspiring broadcasters should contact the Leading Edge Radio Network - Greg Martin 682-229-7476 OR email: mancusomartinentertainment@gmail.com
